

Bruce Pamperin, UW-Stout

Pathet Lao Distant Memories:
A Public War Inside the Secret War

Abstract

Interviews with Hmong living in Laos collected as field research in 2009 who supported the communist as forced labor, conscripts or paid consultants and their memories, activities and attitudes during the Secret War in Laos. The purpose is to contribute to a more complex understanding of Hmong studies and the Hmong American resettlement experience.